NEWS FROM THE FRONT

11 January 2021

Dear fellow Warriors and Friends,

January the Sixth was promised to be a wild time and indeed it was! But the reality is that the Trump supporters were played like a drum.

As wild as 6 January was, this week promises to be one of the wildest weeks we have ever seen. Stand by!

Continue wielding the sword of truth on the invisible battlefield of ideas. "If ye love wealth better than liberty, the tranquillity of servitude than the animating contest of freedom -- go from us in peace. We ask not your counsels or arms. Crouch down and lick the hands which feed you. May your chains sit lightly upon you, and may posterity forget that ye were our countrymen!" ~ Samuel Adams have to say, and spread the truth.

Part II - Thy are lying - From someone who was there ...

"Speaker of the House Nancy Pelosi (D-CA) was adamant that the rioters, who stormed the barricades outside the U.S. Capitol building, making it all the way inside before being turned back by Capitol Police and armed federal agents, would not stall the Electoral College certification process. She told the media Wednesday afternoon that Congress would go back into session and vote on the Electoral College result as soon as the police deemed it safe."

There was no storming of the barricades. There were no barricades or police anywhere around the front entrance to the Capitol. A few police cars and a motorcycle cop, speeding past, were the only sign of law enforcement. No one was blocking the people from peacefully heading to the Capitol, to get positioned for the anticipated speech they were told was coming.

THEY ARE LYING about what happened and it can easily be proven. Check out all the photos they are showing. They have a staged video of a barricade being breached ... but there is no one in the background. In the shot of people breaking in the window ... where is that window? How did the one person get a hold of the policeman's shield? Where is that policeman? Where did a long stick come from to breach the window? Where did the photographer come from? Why is there other footage of the police moving barriers and beckoning people in black to come forward ... inviting them to come up the sidewalk to the Capitol?

How can you see a group of protestors quietly walking through the rotunda with their flags, etc., calmly between the roped lines and call that violent? Who let them in? Where were they going to and where were they coming from?

And why if all this violence is happening inside, are the police just standing on the steps in the back of the Capitol, with protestors standing among and around them as though for a photo op?

All the people on the main area are just chanting and cheering off the back. If there really was the kind of chaos inside, they would have been forced to leave and the riot patrol put in place around the Capitol. Nothing like that was happening. It was all totally peaceful all around the Capitol outside.

So ... where did that footage of the mayhem come from inside the Capitol? If they needed police inside to keep the peace, why were a couple of dozen just hanging out on the back steps of the Capitol, chatting with protestors?

And where did all the photographers come from to get such gritty footage of fisticuffs occurring in the Capitol? Can anyone pull up the training tapes? They train for this all the time, in full gear with fully cast baddies to push against them. Look carefully at the film where they are “fighting” over a barrier. They look like they are blocking a scene. That is not serious security ... it’s actors pretending to be police and rioters.

And that shot of the people behind the door ... it looks like they are pressed up against it. A man is gesturing through the window to open the door. But a policeman has his back to the door right next to it. So, who is that man who is gesturing? Who is he gesturing to? And if he is a baddie, right next to a policeman, why does he seem to be calling the shots? He clearly is not angry or upset or frightened, he just wants someone to open the door. Who are all those people?

And what is with the scene of the man in the fur, clearly inside the Capitol, having a kind of pow wow with the police? There was no violence or smashing of windows. They all seem to be getting along quite nicely. Oh, and that same man has been seen at several Antifa rallies. He’s pretty hard to miss.

And the scene of the single policeman running up the stairs to get away from the very dangerous crowd of one man chasing him. Was that like a joke or something? He would run away, then stand at the top of the stairs waiting for him to catch up, then keep running up more stairs and ... who is the photographer getting all this? And why when the police was at the top of the stairs, fearing for his life, didn’t he just kick the guy down the stairs?

Where did all this footage come from? How did the media get it all so fast ... like in real time? There was no press outside of the rally at allwere they all stationed inside because they knew something was planned? Like the 12 military types who were told it’s time to go?

The innocent crowd of peaceful protestors are nothing but cannon fodder for a crooked, corrupt political system and if they have to throw them under bus and destroy their reputations to win a rigged election, then we know who is committing the real violence against Democracy and the country. These innocent people were set up by people who have a lot to lose if all the truth about them was revealed. They have to maintain power by destroying those who have witnessed first hand what they are capable of.

And if the Capitol was being breached from the outside like they claim, why was a group of about 20 police in full riot gear, just hanging out on one of the balconies overlooking the crowd? Well, besides the fact that they were launching projectiles into the crowd ... but they didn't seem to be worried that there was a huge breach of the barriers ... where there were none. And if all that mayhem was really going on IN the Capitol ... why didn't they go help in there instead of frightening a bunch of old people with flash bangs.

I said yesterday, there is no way this crowd of hundreds of thousands of peaceful protestors had anything to do with the violence that broke out. They are the packing peanuts of a movie set ... the extras. They are the back drop to help sell the narrative the left has been pinning on Trump since before he was elected. That he and his followers are all dangers to democracy and should be stopped at any cost and in any way possible. Oh, and this is not Democrat vs. Republican ... it's freedom vs. totally tyranny and they play for keeps. - 🇺🇸
